

Now that we've been spoiled by finer fixings, we're in love with s'mores with sophistication. Handcrafted, natural-ingredient marshmallows come from Dude, Sweet Chocolate, new to the West 7th shopping district. (We like the Cocoa Puff Marshmallows made with Valrhona cocoa powder.) Toast these over a flame, then quickly slide one onto a crisp cookie of your choice. We used Ginger-Orange Snaps, fresh from Wackym's Kitchen in Dallas, available at Central Market. Top with a square of all-natural dark chocolate, such as our new favorite, Bissinger's from St. Louis, also available at Central Market, and finish with another ginger-orange cookie.

What to drink Sip an Irish Winter, a cup of coffee laced with Bushmills, Connemara or another Irish whiskey, as well as Kahlua and a spoonful of heavy cream.
